

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL FLAG DAY 2018

On the 3 September 1901 as the result of an open public competition the Australian flag was unfurled.

Since that time our flag has become the symbol of a rich and successful nation proudly taking its place on the world stage; be it through business, sport, humanitarian assistance and our military, or to an Australian backpacker in the streets of a foreign city.

As we recognise the 117th anniversary of the Australian flag I encourage the people of New South Wales to celebrate this land of peace and plenty that we so proudly call home.

Yours sincerely

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Luke Foley'.

Luke Foley MP

NSW Labor Leader