Australian National Flag Day 2019

It is a great pleasure to provide this message in recognition of Australian National Flag Day 2019. I encourage all our citizens to fly our flag with pride on 3 September.

For nearly 120 years, the Australian flag has been recognised as a symbol of those qualities that have earned our nation respect around the world, including opportunity, tolerance and a fair go.

I commend the Australian National Flag Association for its ongoing commitment to our flag and all it represents.
